TO: Our valuable customers and business partners,

RE: Manufacturing, Marketing, & Sales of UV Cured GRP Products

This is to confirm that as part of our long-term product strategy, Corrotech Construction Chemicals (CCC) will continue to manufacture, market and sell its comprehensive range of UV cured GRP products under its own brand CORROSOL. CCC will no longer continue to manufacture UV cured GRP products under the brand name SolarTech.

Corrotech Construction Chemicals have been manufacturing the UV cured GRP products at its premises in Dubai Investments Park 1 since 2007, and will continue to do so by adding value to its clients via 12 years' experience in manufacturing, marketing and selling of such products.

Corrotech Construction Chemicals assures its customers and business partners of the quality characteristics surrounding the technical properties and performance of both laminates and resins. The manufacturing process, as well as raw materials used, will continue to be subjected to the strictest of quality standards, and no changes will be implemented that would in anyway be detrimental to the products' characteristics.

We trust that this will not cause any inconvenience and appreciate your cooperation in order to assist with the implementation process and in developing long term mutually beneficial business relationships.

For and on the behalf of
Corrotech Construction Chemicals:

Liam Keating
Chief Operating Officer
